

Mad about mountains? We're your guides!

We give your visions space to grow

Plan your next company retreat with Steinbock Bergtouren!

Walk and talk! - Walk with us and get talking on the go!

Steve Jobs, Charles Darwin and Beethoven did it. Barack Obama, Mark Zuckerberg and Jack Dorsey do it: They all like to leave their offices when they wanted to ponder and discuss something in tranquillity.

Because good ideas are rarely developed at the desk or amidst the hustle and bustle of everyday life. They need space in order to grow. Besides, being in motion boosts our creativity by 60% on average as was proven in a study from Stanford University (Oppezzo et al., Journal of Experimental Psychology, 2014). For a walk-and-talk retreat Steinbock Bergtouren has just the right setting for you:

the mountains

A change of perspective for your next retreat

Combine physical activity and the inspiring atmosphere of the imposing mountains to help you in working on complex issues. In the mountains, you will be high and far above your everyday work routine – this will change your perspective on the challenges you're facing and will sharpen your view for what is essential. The wide horizon at the summit will be your creative space for future-oriented strategies.

*„Walking clears my brain!“
(Darren Huston, CEO von Priceline)*

Company events amidst fascinating mountain scenery

Get in touch with us at Steinbock Bergtouren if you want to set the ideal framework for a successful company retreat:

Whether you are planning a strategy meeting, a retreat, an incentive or a team building event: We know the perfect place for you, ranging from the rustic to the exclusive edge. We tailor your next event to meet your requirements, be it just for one day or for several days. We will take you and your team on guided tours tailored to suit your mountaineering experience. With our profound knowledge of the alpine flora, fauna and culture we will guide you on various routes leading through the breathtaking mountain scenery around your base. On the go, you can develop new ideas step by step, which you may elaborate on in more detail in a more quiet and concentrated atmosphere during the other half of the day, if you wish.

For your safety and your enjoyment, we pay great attention to the excellent training of our International Mountain Leaders.

They have all been trained as licenced International Mountain Leaders by the Association of the German Mountain Guides (VDBS) and each one in our team speaks several languages.

What we offer:

Spaces for ideas:

For your next workshop, we know exactly the right inspiring setting to combine with hikes in the mountains. We can organise events for one or several days in accommodation according to your wishes, ranging from the rustic to the exclusive type.

Incentive events:

A hike in the mountains is perfect for awarding the success and performance of your highly motivated staff members. With the extraordinary experience in mind, they will embark on the next project full of motivation.

Team building:

Strengthen the ties within your team on a guided hike in the mountains and spend the night in a mountain hut. Enjoy the cosy, authentic atmosphere, far away from the noise of everyday life. The focus is on the shared experience.

*„Walking meetings are great for brainstorming, giving feedback, and hashing through tough problems.”
(Kristen Galliani, Co-Gründerin von Meshin)*

Team recreation:

Having successfully completed a project, your team could do with some new energy? Why don't you take them to the mountains, on an inspiring getaway, letting the day end with a hearty meal at a rustic mountain hut?

Thinking about boosting your headhunting success?

Then you should take your future management staff or your expatriates on a guided hike, during which we will introduce them to the nature, culture and history of the mountains, and thus show them the quality of life the region has to offer.

Supporting programme for conferences:

We have just the perfect ideas for your event, and guided by our mountain leaders, your participants will discover the unique nature and culture of the mountain world.

The ideal location for your next strategy meeting:

For example, we offer you a walk-and-talk retreat with a comfortable mountain hut as base. It will be easily accessible by cable car, yet remote enough to provide a space to think free from disturbance.

A mountain hut exclusively for you alone!

A space for thought set amidst a magnificent alpine panorama where there is no limit for your creative ideas. Be inspired by Germany's highest summits. Define your strategic and operative goals in a conference room equipped with cutting edge presentation technology. The staff of the hut will be exclusively committed to you and to ensuring you'll have a pleasant stay. A culinary pamper package, composed to fill you with new energy, can optionally be completed with a wine tasting in the hut's exquisite cellar. After the hike and the workshop, you can let the day end in the relaxed atmosphere of the wellness area.

*“People become much more relaxed, and they talk from their hearts if you go for a walk with them. And they get to the point they want to make much more quickly.”
(Hikmet Ersek, CEO von Western Union)*

*„[...] if you want to get out of the box thinking, you need to [...] get out of the box.” “And of course, creativity has gone up for me and my colleagues by being exposed to nature.”
(Nilofer Merchant, u.a. Gewinnerin des Thinker50 „Future Award 2013“)*
